

Maroons Just Get By Storm

Written by Cyndie K

Wednesday, 16 December 2009 10:51

HOPKINS COUNTY, KY – In a game riddled with foul calls, the Maroon came out on the winning side of the score, beating the Storm 66-61.

The game lived up to its hype. With a full gymnasium on the Maroon campus, the two teams traded baskets the entire night. The first quarter ended with the Maroons up by 1 point. Going into the locker room at halftime, the teams were all tied up. At the end of the third quarter, the Central was up by one. It was Madison scoring 17 points to Central's 11 points in the final quarter that put the game away for the Maroon.

Leading the way for the Central Storm was Hughes with 17, Jernigan with 15 and Baxter with 10. The Maroons had two in double figures with Hatchett scoring 20 and White scoring 18. For both teams, there were several players that contributed to the game with their defense, rebounding and offensive performance. It was a great night of basketball.

As the teams both go into the Christmas Holidays, you can follow them starting this weekend in some different tournaments. Central plays in the Hopkins County Central Holiday tournament on Saturday at 1:30. North Hopkins Maroons will journey to Owensboro to take on Apollo at 6:00.