

Maroons Beat the Union County Braves

Written by Cyndie K

Monday, 25 January 2010 11:10

Hopkins County, KY - The Maroons were finally able to put it all together Friday night as they were able to get past the Union County Braves.

It was close throughout the game as the two teams traded baskets as well as the lead several times that evening. With the Maroons trailing most of the first half by just a few points, Union County went into the locker room at half time up by three points.

Coming out after the halftime break, the Maroons must have remembered that it was Homecoming, because they came out fired up. Between the ball handling, defensive effort and free throw shooting, the Maroons were able to finish with a strong second half. Leading the way for the Maroons was Isiah White with 18 point, Robert Hatchett with 16 points and Dylan Basham with 11 points.

The Maroons will again have a busy week this week as they will hit the road for three games this week. Tuesday night they will be traveling to Owensboro to play the Owensboro Red Devils. Thursday they will be traveling to Muhlenberg County for a make-up game and then Saturday the Maroons will be traveling to Bowling Green. So for all of you Maroon fans, come on out and cheer on the Maroons.

Cyndie King

iSurf News